

World map showing the geographic distribution of first-author records by country. The map uses a color scale from light pink (2 records) to dark purple (8+ records). The United States and Australia show the highest number of records (8), while Brazil and China show 6 records. Most other countries have 2 or 4 records.

[illegible]